

In 2014-15 the district share of Special Education funding was 62%, Colorado’s was 21%, and the federal government was 17%.

About 89,600 of Colorado’s 889,000 students received special education services in 2014-15, approximately 10% of students. Nationally about 13% of students receive special education services. (NCES, The Condition of Education, updated 2016)